		Page
A metal-halide high pressure discharge lamp with warm white colour and high efficacy	D. C. Fromm, J. Seehawer and W. J. Wagner	1
Improved daylight data for predicting energy savings from photoelectric controls	D. R. G. Hunt	9
The use of metal-halide discharge lamps for film lighting (Part 2)	E. W. Taylor	24
National Illumination Committee of Great Britain: report for the year ended 30 September 1978		37
Presidential address: For the greater comfort of mankind	A. M. Marsden	61
Lighting for texture	J. A. Lynes	67
The effect of fence luminance on the detection of potential intruders	P. R. Boyce	78
Progress towards a practical fluorine lamp	J. R. Fitzpatrick and J. M. Rees	85
Discomfort glare: a formula to bridge differences	H. D. Einhorn	90
Para-ellipsoid mirrors and fan shaped beams	J. G. Holmes	95
Daylighting: appraisal at the early design stages	H. Byrd and A. Hildon	99
A sequence for daylighting design	J. A. Lynes	102
Variation and use of contract rendering factor and equivalent sphere illuminance	A. I. Slater	117
Subjective assessments of the appearance of special performance glazing in offices	Kit Cuttle	140
Does the British Zonal System have a future?	J. A. Lynes	150
Specifying colour appearance	R. W. G. Hunt	175
Spectral eye fatigue in a school environment	K. T. Tikkanen	184
Degredation analysis in switched low pressure sodium lamps	D. M. Barry and S. M. P. Kohbodi	189
Intensity distribution from paraboloid mirror with co-axial linear source	J. G. Holmes and J. J. B. Moerman	193
A mobile laboratory for dynamic road lighting measurement	J. Green and R. A. Hargroves	197
Some effects of veiling reflections in papers	J. Reitmaier	204

Research Notes

A variable-parameter electronic ignitor for gas-discharge lamps	A N. Chalmers	47
Reflection factors for pedestrian's clothing	E. R. Hansen and J. S. Larsen	154
A user's attitudes to some types of local lighting	P. R. Boyce	158

Correspondence 107, 165, 210

Book Reviews 109, 211

Abstracts 51, 110, 167, 213

New Publications 59, 114, 173, 221
